

A Canny North East Guide to Creative arts

You can go green In...

You could work in the theatre, within music, write or act to communicate powerful messages about climate change. To make the world more sustainable, story-telling and messaging are essential. Jobs in the creative sector often inspire change through emotive theatre, dance, art and music. If you like designing, you could work as a graphic designer or even as a fashion designer to grab everyone's attention.

Skills

- Communication
- Creative Thinking
- Confidence
- Open-mindedness

Interests

- Art and design
- Drama
- English
- Music

Visit our guide to Green Careers to find out more